

The Time is Now "Vote 4 Education" this Tuesday

On Tuesday, August 24, voters all over Arizona will be making critical decisions in the primary election. Although Expect More Arizona does not endorse specific candidates, we are providing you with access to information and resources to help you make sure you are voting for true education champions.

As you make your candidate selections, remember to ask yourself these 4 Questions:

1. Is education one of their top two priorities?
2. Do they have a clear plan with specific strategies for how they will address the biggest issues affecting education in our state?
3. Are they willing to invest resources in education to support Arizona's long-term success?
4. How will they challenge Arizonans to expect more and do more for education?

Visit ExpectMoreArizona.org to do your homework about your possible candidates. The Know Your Candidate section has links to Candidate Questionnaires, Voting Records and Taped Debates and Forums. These are resources provided by community, advocacy and education-related organizations.

We also encourage you to visit your top candidates Web sites to see where education ranks in their priorities or if its even included in their platforms.

Be sure to "Vote 4 Education" on Tuesday !
